P.C. COMPUTER BACK-UP INVENTION

Brief:

A P.C. device which resolves a computer user's common backup nightmare, resulting from computer hard disc failure and/or loss of programs or software. The damages from loss of data, or computer failure, may often be significant, often devastating, especially when urgent work must be completed at any time of the day/night.

The device, a small PC accessory, enables a new method of backup, easy and simple, and extremely useful. The device keeps the computer working, and enables the user to operate and use the backup files despite the hard disc failure. In addition, the device will enable removing the failed hard disc for repair or replacement, and continuing operation like nothing has happened.

The device is extremely inexpensive, is used by a click on a button, and revolutionary.

Shairon Int'l. develops, manufactures, and markets Tsiyoni's inventions since 1989. The most recent inventions are:

1. PrideR Electric Scooter, a revolutionary slow moving, standing only 3-wheel scooter.
2. Online Gradual Price Reduction Patent – Goods & Services (AKA Internet Trading)
